What makes you right ?

This is the basic question any recruiter will ask themselves when reviewing your CV. Now with a family, how would you answer this question? What makes you right for this new position? Lets work together and find your goal. Its not always what you think.

Let's talk about going back to work.

We will begin with an overall assessment of when you would like to go back to work. Lets figure out what positions would be a fit. Look over your CV in both English and German. Then prepare for the interview when it is time.
